ORANJESTAD - This weekend, on Friday and Saturday night at 8 P.M. and Sunday at 6:00 P.M., local dancer Alydia Wever will present her production, "One in Soul", choreography of modern dance combining professional dancers, her best students, and well known local artists – all on stage with their "art" intertwined with the dancers.

Local artists/musicians Mo Mohammed and sons will perform live music onstage during the performance as well.

This production arose from Alydia's perception of Caribbean and Latin American culture, where men are macho and women are expected to be subservient. Alydia takes note of the fact that men can be tender and women can be strong, in other words, that each gender shares both male and female traits.

Since all of the dancers are female and all the participating artists male, Alydia has will show how all are equal, explained through both the dancers and the artists' different contributions to the dances.

It will most certainly be a thoroughly entertaining as well as unusual show, and dance fans and others are highly recommended to catch one of them this weekend.

Immediately following the Friday evening performance, a fundraising party will take place in Cas di Cultura's lobby, with drinks and snacks available for purchase. The purpose of this fundraiser is to raise funds for the production to be taken to Curacao for 1 weekend. Partygoers will be able to meet these talented artists with a one on one introduction. It will most definitely be a fun and educational experience.

Tickets are available at Cas di Cultura – it is not to be missed! □
